

Manor Notes July 2022

Volume 7 2022

Looking out for our neighbors

Who says Manor neighbors only have two legs? Manor residents Burr and Meghan found an injured fawn, who'd fallen off the front retaining wall, and rescued it. Moral of the story? Keep an eye open to anyone needing assistance, including the furry friends who share living space with us.

Cobb County
Animal Rescue
770.499.4136

Today's pun. Or not?

“I was upset when my freezer stopped working, but it's all just water under the fridge now.”

But, fridge leaks aren't so funny in a multi-floor condo like the Manor, especially when damage occurs. Case in point - a line break and fridge leak just last week caused significant damage to the resident's home as well as the owner's place below. Please be sure to shut off your water line when traveling or any time you're away from home for a protracted period. Thanks for your diligence.

Portal domination

Manor residents used the Access Management portal more in June than ever before to report Manor-related neighborhood issues. A huge thanks as this reporting process is efficient on all levels and makes it easier for D'Ari and team to work the queue.

Great to see!

Big news!

The Manor Annual Association Meeting, happening on Nov. 9, 2022, will be held live at the Clubhouse. Watch for additional info over the next few months in Manor Notes.

Happy birthday,
United States of America!
July 4, 1776 - 2022